MAUNDY THURSDAY FOOT CARE CLINIC – A REQUEST FOR DONATIONS AND VOLUNTEERS

On Maundy Thursday (Thursday, April 9), Covenant will join four other congregations (Mount Pleasant Lutheran, First Presbyterian, St. Luke's Episcopal, Lutheran Church of the Resurrection) in hosting a Foot Care Clinic at the Hospitality Center in downtown Racine. On the day when we remember Jesus washing the feet of the disciples, we have the opportunity to offer care to those who often have trouble with their feet.

The event will be held from 8am-2pm. We will be looking for volunteers from each church to come and participate in handing out foot care gift bags, visiting with the guests, and some who can help with foot washing. Watch for an email to go out asking for volunteers later this month.

During the month of March, we're asking people at all the churches to help us collect the items for the gift bags. (We are also receiving several donations from area companies). If you'd like to participate, please bring any of the following:

- Socks
- Small bottles of foot powder
- Toenail Clippers
- Foot warmers (the little packets that you open and shake and get warm)
- Bars of anti-bacterial soap
- Small bottles of lotions (think travel size)

PASTOR'S PAGE

FROM PASTOR SARAH

With the beginning of Lent this past month, I have been thinking about the traditional practices of giving something up or taking something on. Neither of those feel quite right to me this year, and I find myself wondering what it would mean to "practice" Lent. In her book, The Art of Family and Everyday Spirituality, Gina Bria describes family as the setting in which we are able to "practice ourselves" in the presence of others. She speaks about practicing ourselves as opportunities in which to integrate our identities—to pull together the different roles and personalities we necessarily adopt throughout our days and lives. This integration is always ongoing, for even as we edge ever closer to integration, our roles and identities shift with time and we must continually work to integrate them into who we are.

When we give something up or take something on for the season of Lent, we are, in essence, practicing a new way of being before God. I imagine that part of what has kept these traditions of giving up or taking on going for so long is that the time span is so limited. We have six weeks in which to abstain or discipline ourselves to do something new. Forty days. Even if we fall short every year, by the time Lent roles around again we have (rightly?) convinced ourselves that surely we can do _____ (fill in your chosen discipline or abstinence) for forty days. Lenten disciplines are an opportunity to practice being slightly different, and hopefully slightly more integrated, in our relationship with God and the world.

A few years ago Maggie Dawn posted a great essay on her blog entitled, "Lent: Did You Cheat Yet." In her post, Dawn argues that failing at a Lenten discipline can be as important and as meaningful as succeeding. She writes, "one of the central purposes of Lent is to remind us that we are utterly human, and utterly dependent upon God. What could be more human than breaking a promise, failing on a discipline, achieving less than we meant to, losing our confidence or our resolve?" What matters, Dawn argues, is how we frame our failure. If we simply throw in the towel when we fail and think "well, I tried, maybe next year," then we've missed the point of Lent. If, however, we allow our failure to help us remember that we are utterly dependent on God, and if we pick ourselves up and dust ourselves off and try again, then we have experienced the very essence of Lent.

So, however you enter into this season of Lent, I hope it is one in which you have many opportunities to practice being a Child of God, and that when (not if) you fail, you are able to do so with grace and good humor, remembering that failing is half the battle.

Lenten Blessings, Pastor Sarah

SESSION

SESSION HIGHLIGHTS—FEBRUARY

The Session met together on February 17, and welcomed new Elders Scott McDonald, Janelle Rogers and Carlton Wininger. Pastors Jenny and Sarah led us in Elder training, including a discussion of Elder roles and responsibilities. Our meeting included updates from the Personnel Committee with Session approving bonuses for the Pastors and the Ministry Assistant, and a request from Caring for Creation to explore the possibilities of solar power for Covenant. Committee reports were accepted, and we completed the annual election process. Maureen Potter and Linda Webster will serve as Trustee Co-Presidents. Kathy Bower will serve as Treasurer, with Jim Parrish as Assistant Treasurer. Claudia Grace will continue as Clerk and as Presbytery representative. Karen Fretschel and Greg Hanchon will serve on the Foundation Board. Michael Clickner will continue as Nominating Chair and Claudia Grace will also serve on the Nominating Committee.

We look forward to serving the Covenant Congregation in the year ahead. As we make this Lenten Journey, Session members remember our vows to the Congregation and appreciate the support and prayers that you share on our behalf.

WORSHIP & MUSIC

FROM OUR MUSIC DIRECTOR

As you receive this, we've probably just celebrated the First Sunday of Lent; on March 1, this year. Our word "Lent" is an adaptation of the Old English word "Lencten", which means spring.

There are many ways of "counting" Lent to get to 40. Often, the First Sunday is viewed as the first "counted" day of these "Forty Days and Forty Nights". Thus, it's common to sing one of the Lenten "counting" hymns on the First Sunday. There are three in our hymnal:

- #165 "The Glory of These Forty Days." This text is often said to be written by Gregory the Great, about 540 - 604 ce, but no one really knows for sure. The tune, ERHALT UNS HERR, has an amazing harmonization by the German, 17th century composer, J.S. Bach. The tune itself is a hymned up version of the chant, "Veni Redemptor Genitum", or "Come, Savior of the Nations" and may have been adapted by Martin Luther.
- #166 "Lord, Who throughout These Forty Days". This text seems to have been written for Children by the English poet, Claudia Hernaman (1838 - 1898). Interestingly, she wrote it in second person. Our hymnal changed all the versions of "you" to versions of "us". The tune for this text in our hymnal is ST. FLAVIAN. It's the first half of a tune written to be sung to Psalm 132 and appeared for the first time in an English psalter in 1853.
- #167 "Forty Days and Forty Nights". This text originally had nine verses, was written by George Hunt Smytant (1822 - 1870), and first appeared in a magazine under the title "Poems for Lent: As Sorrowful, Yet Always Rejoicing." It's been extensively revised over the years to reach its current form. The tune, AUS DER TIEFE RUFE ICH, is German, first published in 1861, and was intended to accompany a setting of Psalm 130 in German. This is how the tune gets its name, which in English means "From the deep I call to thee."

If we start counting on Sunday, March 1, we continue until Holy Thursday morning, April 9, 2020, to get to 40. Ash Wednesday and the three days following serve as an introduction.

Some other folks start the counting on Ash Wednesday and don't count Sundays, as the Christian Sabbath was considered a day to feast, not to fast.

Wishing us all a time of growth this Lent, that we may "spring ahead!"

Joe

FELLOWSHIP

GAMES AND SOUP REVIEW

The Fellowship and Hospitality Committee thanks you for your participation in the first Games afternoon and Souper Sunday!

We are excited to share that over 130 soup cans and related items were collected! We enjoyed lunch together, and Beth Zimmerman steered us through a variety of familiar, or sometimes new, games. What a wonderful way to spend a snowy Sunday afternoon!

We hope that this will be an annual event....or maybe more often? Please let us know what you think about future events -- and please help us finish the puzzle in the Gathering Space!

Thanks to Beth for her leadership and to the Fellowship and Hospitality Committee members!

ADULT SPIRITUAL GROWTH

MARCH BOOK CONVERSATION—TALKING TO STRANGERS— WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 6:30—8PM

Save the date, read the book, and join us as we discuss the book, Talking To Strangers: What We Should Know About People We Don't Know by Malcolm Gladwell.

Something is very wrong, Gladwell argues, with the tools and strategies we use to make sense of people we don't know. And because we don't know how to talk to strangers, we are inviting conflict and misunderstanding in ways that have a profound effect on our lives and our world. Tackling hot button issues and recent headlines (such as police misconduct, the SEC, suicide, and sexual misconduct, to name a few) Gladwell argues that, as a race, we default to truth—we believe that what people tell us is the truth. And sometimes that gets really messy. So, should we believe people? Or should we be more distrustful? Come discuss the book, the case studies it uses and how we might answer those questions as Christians.

Copies of the book can be found at the Racine Public Library as well as at Barnes & Noble and Amazon, and audio versions of the book (read by the author) are also available at the library and through Amazon.

2. Drop off a devotional you've used in the past but are ready to pass along (Advent or Lent; please put all donations in Pastor Sarah's mailbox)
3. Whether you're looking for a daily devotional from a well-known writer, an online devotional that will show up in your inbox each morning, or a brand new devotional for the year 2020, we have something for you. A LENTEN CLASS WITH FORMER COVENANT CO-PASTOR, MELANIE HAMMOND CLARK WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25 FROM 6:30-8:30PM "SEEING THE FACE OF GOD: DISCOVERING OUR CONSCIOUS AND UNCONSCIOUS LENSES"

Mining portions of the new book When Faith Becomes Sight by Beth and David Booram, Melanie Hammond Clark (former Co-Pastor at Covenant and presently a spiritual director, teacher, and retreat leader) will help us consider some of our personal barriers to experiencing God's loving presence more fully in our lives. As the Boorams write:

"...In addition to our conscious and scripted concepts about God, we have many unscripted and unconscious notions about God. And it's these -- not our creeds and confessions -- that largely control how we relate to God and others and live out the implications..."

"How we think about God is our theology. What we believe God thinks and feels about us is the relationship." This train of thought intuitively suggests that each of us has an internal library of unconscious God images that we've absorbed from our parents, community, faith traditions, culture, and life experiences. These have imprinted on our psyches. And from this largely hidden collection we experience our soul's deeper orientation toward God, one that persistently tells us who we are to God and who God is to us. (p. 67-68).

Join Melanie, and welcome your friends, as we get at the heart of our life with God in fresh ways. You will not have to share your reflections on the topic with others, but you will be encouraged to at least have an illuminating conversation with yourself!

FINDING GOD IN THE WILDERNESS

MONDAY, MARCH 30 FROM 5:30-6:30PM (SUNSET IS 7:16PM)

As we enter this season of Lent and contemplate the theme of Wilderness together, it is fitting that we actually go out into the wilderness. Join Pastor Jenny at River Bend Nature Center for a time of exploring their beautiful trails. We'll start with a short time of readings and prayer and scripture, then go out on the trails by ourselves and come back at the end of an hour to share our observations and pray together. Come out to the wilderness! (All ages welcome)

STEPHEN MINISTRY

STEPHEN MINISTRY SUNDAY

On March 8, as we continue our Lenten Journey, we will also celebrate the Stephen Ministry at Covenant. An important theme of the Lenten season is recognizing the humanity of Christ. In Jesus, God became human and fully experienced the wide range of emotions we all encounter in life. Jesus experienced times of loneliness, sadness, hurt, anger, disappointment, grief, and abandonment, all part of being human. Another part of being human is needing help from each other. God never intended us to be completely self-sufficient. Part of God's plan is for each of us to turn to others for help when we need it.

So when you are experiencing difficult times, don't struggle alone. Our Stephen Ministers will walk with you, listen to you, encourage you, pray with you, and provide confidential one-to-one care to help you through tough times. Stephen Ministers can bring the love of Jesus back into your life. To learn more about Stephen Ministry, talk to Claudia Grace or Pastor Sarah.

Our Stephen Ministers are ready to walk life's journey with you!

MISSION OUTREACH

FUNDRAISING FOR DISASTER KITS FOR OUR 2020 MISSION TRIP TO LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

When 16 or 17 Covenant members and friends head down to Little Rock, Arkansas, in June, we will serve at the Ferncliff Disaster Assistance Center who partner with Presbyterian Disaster Assistance (PDA) and Church World Service (CWS). There, we will pack disaster kits that are sent all over the world to help those who have experienced natural disasters and human created disasters. These kits offer people life-saving and helpful tools. The mission group has decided that we would like to fundraise money to be able to donate as many disaster kits as we can.

To that end, watch for a way to support us after Easter when we will have a couple of fundraising opportunities! And if you'd like to learn more about the PDA and the work they do, you can find information here: <https://pda.pcusa.org/> and more about the disaster kits we'll be purchasing and packing here: <https://pda.pcusa.org/page/kits/>.

CARING FOR CREATION

Caring for Creation is Hosting Solar Power Information Sharing Sessions *March 8, after worship, OR March 11, 6pm

Are you concerned about our environment and wish you could be part of protecting it? Well, in case you haven't realized it, you already have been part of caring for God's creations here at Covenant!!! Have you found yourself recycling more items in Covenant's recycle bins, or have you eaten potluck meals on our new washable plates, or brought in a bucket of compost. Perhaps you helped plant the Bioswale or removed invasive species from our property. Perhaps you helped teach a lesson to our children or participated in Eco-Fest where we shared ideas with our greater community. Maybe you learned how to fix your old bike and now are riding or walking to more places instead of driving your car. Nothing is too small!

What might we do next? The Caring for Creation Committee has been exploring how we might use Solar Power at Covenant and we are excited to be able to share the preliminary information we have gathered to date and to gauge interest from the congregation.

We will be hosting two identical information sharing sessions; only 30 minutes long!! The first will take place after worship on Sunday, March 8. This is also Second Sunday Coffee, so we invite you to bring your coffee and treats into the Providence Room. If you are unable to attend on the 8th but still wish to participate, we invite you to attend on Wednesday, March 11 at 6pm.

The event is a FREE annual event hosted by Greening Greater Racine and Gateway Technical College and will be held at Gateway Technical College, Racine Campus on Saturday, March 21, 9am to 1pm. The Caring for Creation Committee will be displaying and teaching members of our community about the success of our 3-bin Compost System and the improvements we made to the Bucket Depot. We will also share information about our Bioswale which has recently been designated as a Monarch Waystation. There will be many opportunities to learn from others in our community. We'd love to see you there! We also invite you to help out at our booth, even if for a few minutes.
